Swiss Marketing Trophy 2015

Grisons company wins special prize of the Swiss Marketing Trophy 2015

Bagno Sasso Mobili is awarded for the most environmentally friendly faucet in the world with the special prize of the Swiss Marketing Trophy 2015. The Swiss Marketing Award is considered the "Oscar" of the Swiss marketing world. Among the nominees there were well-known companies such as BMW, UBS, Geberit and Stöckli.

On March 3, 2015, the world's most water and energy-saving faucet Swiss Eco Tap of the Grisons company Bagno Sasso Mobili wins the special prize of the Swiss Marketing Trophy 2015. Around 1'000 invited guests in the fields of economics and communication followed the award ceremony which was held in the KKL Lucerne. The event was performed by the profiled Swiss Television journalist Susanne Wille.

Rolf Senti, CEO of Bagno Sasso Mobili and Swiss Eco Tap: "This award makes me very proud; we have won major international innovation and design awards for the Swiss Eco Tap. Now we are honored in our home market, which is a great recognition for us. The international awards helped us to increase the awareness of the environmentally friendly faucet. We have continuously put on innovative marketing and sales strategies. Within a short time we had built up a global distribution network. Today the most environmentally friendly faucet is in use for example in the European headquarter of eBay in Berne, the first zero-energy skyscraper hotel "AquaTower" in Radolfzell/ DE, in mosques in Dubai, in mountain restaurants in the Grisons, in a government building in Belgium and the International Airport Timisoara in Romania.» Swiss Eco Tap was awarded the German Innovation Prize as "Best Product 2014" and won the SBID International Design Excellence Award in the category "Contract Product". Moreover, Swiss Eco Tap was nominated for the Design Prize Switzerland, the German Design Award, the Global Cleantech Customer Association Award (GCCA Award), the Zurich Climate Prize and the Swiss Ethics Award.
